Brand Introduction

Collaboration in every action. Innovation with every step.
Impact on every learner and school system.

Mission

NorthEast Washington Educational Service District 101 promotes educational excellence by delivering essential, cooperative services to schools and other learning communities.

What is an ESD?

An ESD (Educational Service District) is a regional education service agency that supports local school districts by providing shared programs, technical assistance, and specialized services that might be too costly or complex for any single district to run alone. ESDs act as the connector between districts and the state (OSPI, the Legislature) to make sure statewide initiatives reach every corner of Washington. By pooling resources, ESDs help school districts gain efficiencies, reduce duplication, and expand access to high-quality services, putting more effort and funding directly into student learning.

What is ESD 101?

NEWESD 101 is one of nine Educational Service Districts in Washington state. We partner with 59 public school districts, 45 private schools, and three charter schools across seven counties, supporting more than 100,000 students. Established in 1969, we're the largest ESD in the state, both by geography and number of districts served.

We offer more than 30 programs and services that help schools meet student and staff needs efficiently and cost-effectively. These include professional learning for educators, behavioral health and student support, special education, nutrition and Farm to School programs, business and technology support, and more.

Media Inquiries

If you are contacted by a reporter, please loop in Superintendent Robert Roettger and Communications Officer Tracy Poindexter-Canton right away. Superintendent Roettger is our official spokesperson, and our Communications team will help coordinate the response. The subject-matter expert may give the interview, but it's important that leadership and Communications are aware before any interview occurs. For guidance on interviews (staying on message, avoiding jargon, handling difficult questions), see the Media Interview Tips document on the Intranet or reach out to Tracy.

Public Records Notice

IMPORTANT! Please relay any requests you receive (via email, phone, written or verbally) related to Public Records immediately to Rob (rroettger@esd101.net)

File Type & Location

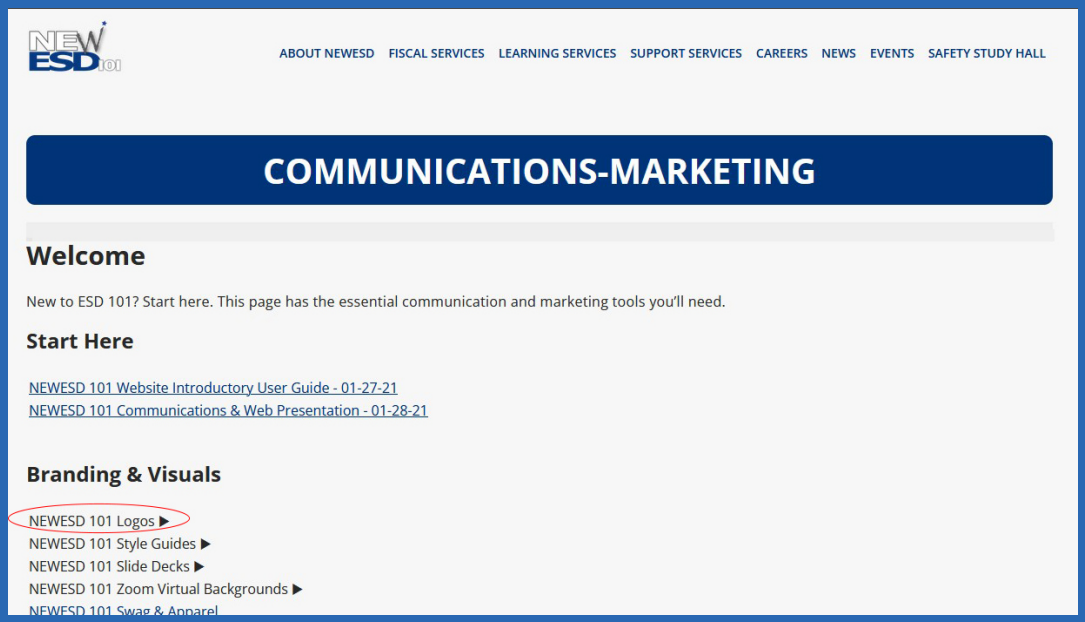
Why multiple formats?

Different file types serve different purposes (print, web, internal documents, vendors).
Using the correct format ensures quality, consistency, and flexibility.

Format	Use Case	Color Mode	Special Notes
Vector / EPS / AI / PDF (vector)	Commercial printing, large-scale uses (signage, apparel)	CMYK	These files are scalable without loss of quality. Usually requested by external vendors.
PNG	Internal printing, Microsoft Office, Google Docs	RGB / HEX	Supports transparency (no white box). Good for overlaying on images or colored backgrounds.
JPG / JPEG	Web / digital displays	RGB / HEX	Compressed file size. Does not have transparency; use only on white or solid backgrounds, not over complex backgrounds.

Where to find files

- PNG and JPG versions of the logos are stored on the staff Intranet under "Communications / Brand Assets."
- If a vendor requests the vector or original design files, please contact Communications to get the EPS/AI version (for external use).
- Please do not use old / deprecated logo files (see section on Logo Misuse).



Logo Usage

All materials should include either our standard logo or specially-designed logo for the current school year.

Correct Usage

- Use full-color logo when possible.
- If single-color is needed (for limited printing), use approved monochrome variant.
- Respect minimum clear space: the logo must always have at least X (you can set dimension) around it free of other graphic elements.
- Always maintain proportions; do not stretch, squash, or distort. using a 4:3 ratio of length to height.
- If placing over a background image or colored field, ensure sufficient contrast so the logo is legible.

Logo Misuse

Misuse - Do Not

- Alter or rotate orientation
- Change or recolor logo beyond approved palette
- Warp, skew, distort
- Add drop shadows, outlines, glows, reflections
- Overlay text, images, or graphics on top of the logo
- Use old or deprecated versions of the logo
- Compress it to such a degree that it becomes pixelated

If you discover any unauthorized or outdated logos in use, please report them to the Communications Office immediately.

GENDER PRONOUNS
In alignment with NEWESD 101's commitment to equity, inclusion and anti-racism, we welcome and encourage the use of gender pronouns in your email signature. This practice helps minimize misgendering and is an important strategy towards inclusivity. This practice (putting instructor's pronouns in syllabus/email sig/on board) is to help trans and nonbinary individuals feel more comfortable in identifying their pronouns and to normalize the practice across the board. The idea behind normalizing is to create a more inclusive space for all. The addition of adding optional gender pronouns to your email signature is supported and encouraged by the NEWESD 101, but not required.

AP Style Quick Tips

Agency Name & Acronym

- Use the full name NorthEast Washington Educational Service District 101 on first mention.
- Our acronym is NEWESD 101 (all caps, no extra space: not NEW ESD 101).

Titles

- Capitalize titles when preceding a name: Superintendent John Smith.
- Lowercase when used generally: the superintendent will attend.

Time & Date

- Use figures for times, lowercase a.m./p.m. with periods (e.g. 3:30 p.m.).
- Don't write redundancies like "10 a.m. in the morning."
- Dates: do not use "st," "nd," "rd," "th" after the number (e.g. July 4, not July 4th).
- Abbreviate Jan., Feb., Aug., Sept., Oct., Nov., Dec. when used with a date (e.g. Sept. 22).
- Always capitalize months.

Grades & Numbers

- Grades: lowercase grade unless at the start of a sentence. No hyphen unless needed for clarity (e.g. "sixth-grade student").
- Spell out whole numbers below 10, use numerals for 10 and above (e.g. six students, 12 teachers).
- Spell ordinals first through ninth (first, second … ninth), use numerals for 10th, 11th, etc.

Lists / Commas

- Do not use the Oxford comma (i.e. no comma before "and" in a list).

Media & Communications Protocol

Public Records Requests (Reminder) If you receive a public records request in any form, forward it immediately to Rob or Tracy. Timing is critical for legal compliance.

Media Inquiries

- Contact Superintendent Robert Roettger and Communications Officer Tracy Poindexter-Canton at first notice.
- The subject-matter expert may speak with media, but leadership and communications must be aware in advance.
- See the attached "Media Interview Tips" doc on the Intranet, or contact Tracy for coaching.
